Rules of the International Law Competition "Youth for Peace"

The International Law Competition "Youth for Peace" is an annual contest for students from different countries. The participants are expected to demonstrate excellent knowledge of international humanitarian law, different aspects of international public law related to or arising in context of military conflicts (suspension of treaties, environmental damage, economic losses or sanctions etc.), human rights law and ability to adjust to the changing environment.

The Competition provides students with a wonderful opportunity to enrich and extend their knowledge in the sphere of international humanitarian law through participation in the simulated armed conflict.

The goal of the Competition is to promote active participation of young people in political and cultural life and to support various positive youth initiatives. The International Law Competition "Youth for Peace" is the only event of its kind in Eastern Europe.

The Competition consists of a number of rounds. Each of the rounds is evaluated by the judges and is important for the final assessment of the teams' standings.

I GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. The International Law Competition "Youth for Peace" was founded and is organized by the International University "MIISO".

2. The Competition consists of the following rounds: Preliminary Round, Social Video Contest (no less 1.5 min.), Theoretical Rounds, Semi-final and Final.

3. In order to participate in the Competition teams should pass the Preliminary Round.

4. Applications for participation should be sent to the Organizational Committee (further - OC) to international.miso@gmail.com before the deadline set in Section IV "TIME SCHEDULE".

5. The application should consist of the following documents:

- Team and students registration card;
- Essay;
- Written consent of the authorized university representative (e.g. Rector, Vice-Rector, Dean of Faculty, Head of the Department) for the team's participation in the Competition (optional form).

The complete set of documents should be received by the OC no later than October 21st, 2019.

6. The registration fee (500 EURO per team) must be paid before the start of the Competition. See the deadline for payment in Section IV "TIME SCHEDULE". The registration fee is nonrefundable.

The registration fee covers expenses on:

- participation in the Competition;
- accommodation (provided from 12 a.m. November 24th, 2019 till 12 a.m. November 30th, 2019). Accommodation outside these dates should be arranged and paid by the teams themselves. The organizers of the Competition can assist with the booking of the hotel accommodation;

- three meals per day;
- sightseeing program.

8 OC could consider formal request on the sending institution for reduction of the registration fee. Preference will be given to Partner Universities of the International University "MITSO" (in accordance with the Cooperation Agreement).

9 The registration fee does not include financial assistance for team-advisor. In case he/she would like to accompany a team during the competition week, all costs must be covered by his/her expense.

10 Visa support will be provided to all foreign teams.

11 Working language of the Competition is English.

12 Repeated participation of the same team-members is not allowed.

13 A team should consist of two-three (2-3) students (except doctoral students) who represent one university or other institution of higher education. Participation of mixed teams (participants coming from several universities from one country) is also allowed.

14 The participants should be under the age of thirty one (31).

15 After the submission of the application, the team's composition can be changed before October 28th, 2019. The team must timely warn OC about any changes in team's composition.

16 Information on the topic, format and structure of the theoretical and practical rounds of the Competition is not provided by the OC until the official opening of the Competition.

17 Teams are evaluated on the following criteria:

- knowledge of international humanitarian law;
- knowledge of international public law especially in aspects related to or arising in context of military conflicts;
- knowledge of human rights law;
- ability to apply theoretical knowledge in practice;
- ability to provide well-reasoned arguments to support their point;
- ability to react quickly and adjust to different situations;
- teamwork.

18 The panel of judges of the Competition consists of a number of highly-competent experts and impartial judges selected by the OC.

19 Decisions of the judges and OC are final and are not subject to appeal.

20 During the Competition the teams are allowed to use literature and other sources of information, as well as technical means (except communication facilities - e.g. mobile phones or internet access), including those brought by the teams from their home countries.
